

Duty to Involve Support Packages

Involve's objective is to build the capacity in public sector organisations and help them deliver high quality involvement at a reasonable cost.

We therefore provide a range of support options created to ensure you get the highest possible impact no matter what you can afford. Our support packages are aimed at authorities looking for high quality advice as well as value for money. And if you have no budget we even offer a range of free services.

Free Support

The Involve website www.involve.org.uk gives you access to a range of free best practice guidance. In addition our practitioner website www.peopleandparticipation.net provides you with hundreds of case studies, information about methods of engagement and also allows you to ask questions of our resident experts. All of this is completely free to use. We are also running a series of free events on the Duty to Involve. See our website www.involve.org.uk for more details.

Mentoring Sessions

We also provide free mentoring sessions, where we help you consider the key issues you face in developing a high quality involvement strategy. If you would like to register for a session contact: duty2involve@involve.org.uk
